REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

- The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a method and apparatus of searching streaming media presentations. Independent claims 1,7,16,25,27 and 28 identify the uniquely distinct feature, “ for streaming at least a portion of the media presentation in response to determining the temporal location to a source of the request”; Independent claims 33 and 39 identify the uniquely distinct feature, “ for generating a markup document describing how the plurality of media streams are to be presented and referencing the locally stored plurality of media streams and selectively plying back at least one of the stored plurality of media streams locally”. The closest prior art, Bronson (USPN 5,136,655), discloses wherein a technique for processing audio-video data in a storage medium where indexes are generated by automatically extracting and indexing words and pictures in the audio-video data with their corresponding timing or other location data, the indexes permit searching and selective retrieval of word and/or scene data in accordance with location data associated therewith; while deVries et al. (USPN 6,243,708 B1), disclose technique for accessing an item of interest within a stored representation of data, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above underlined limitation obvious.

- Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
